In-home Tutoring

We offer one-on-one, in-home tutoring to provide students with the right academic tools in a comfortable environment. Each child is different and learns in different ways, so our tutors develop plans tailored to each student’s learning style. Our tutors have K-12 experience in all school subjects, some with special education or college preparation and testing expertise.

Small Group Workshops

Our workshops and small-group tutoring complement individual tutoring and allow students to benefit from peer-to-peer interaction. Student workshops are carefully designed by educators to complement curricula and academic needs of students. We also offer workshops to equip parents with the skills and information to effectively assist their child in reaching academic success.

Education Consulting

Our consulting services help educational, government, and non-profit organizations develop plans to guide students to academic success. A holistic perspective considers the needs and abilities of parents, students, and teachers collectively. In addition, we strive to make high-quality educational opportunities accessible to parents as well as professional educators through workshops, conferences, consultations, and presentations at PTA and civic association meetings.
