Our Tutors

At Advanced Educational Services, LLC (AES), we are proud of our tutors who are all carefully chosen to be part of the AES team and work together to help students realize their full academic potential. To ensure that our tutors are qualified to work with your children, we conduct background checks at the state and national level and extensive reference checks and interviews for each tutor.

All tutors are either certified teachers or professionals experienced in working with children. The average amount of classroom experience for the teachers is 10 years. Many of our tutors are certified in special education and have experience working with special needs students. We have tutors experienced in working with students at the elementary, middle school, and high school levels.

Elementary: Our elementary tutors understand the needs of young learners and how to engage them in the learning process. Elementary subjects covered include reading skills (all levels) and comprehension, math, writing, and general studies. In addition, we emphasize critical thinking and study skills in each session.

Middle School: Our middle school tutors focus on developing student independence and responsibility. Whether helping students prepare for a high school entrance exam or grasp the fundamentals of algebra, our team members are up to the task. We assist middle school students in nearly any subject, including reading, writing, pre-algebra, science, and social studies.

High School: Our high school team members challenge students to apply what they learn to real-life situations. This team has experience in math (algebra I & II, geometry, trigonometry, calculus, applied mathematics), science (biology, chemistry, physics, bio-med), grammar and writing, social studies (world history, U.S. history, geography, civics), and foreign languages (French and Spanish). We also offer assistance with GED test preparation and Math SAT test preparation.
